To Whom It May Concern

Owens Farming Trust is a customer of Solar Energy & Battery Storage Solutions (SEBSS) having installed several systems on our dairy and the residences in the past two years. This Trust also continues to monitor the performance of these systems regularly.

On the hunt for solar photovoltaic (PV) installation companies there are many. It is hard to find the correct fit and sometimes a company that actually knows exactly what they are doing, or sell products that are worth the money.

After having SEBSS recommended to us and having had a meeting with Dr. Kame Khouzam and Paul Reynolds, we knew that we had found the right fit. With many combined years in the field of photovoltaic (PV) and energy efficiency they were able to explain and show all the possibilities for our business. The attention to detail and their commitment to technical advice is astounding. Every step of the way, being in contact and making sure that the systems to be installed were designed for our specific needs.

In a world where communication is a key to successful outcomes, either Dr. Karme Khouzam or Paul Reynolds were easily contactable; always willing to help understand it all. There is no doubt in our minds that the team at SEBSS will continue to assist us in anything needed for our systems, be it upgrade or technical assistance. We very highly recommend Solar Energy & Battery Storage Solutions to any and every one.
